

Hey,

I just heard from Four this morning from his Twitter account. He is attempting to take down the Erudite computers and is stuck just outside Jeanine's lab trying to get in. There's an access system leading to the lab that is asking him for 6 keys to unlock the lab door. The keys are answers to a set of challenges that test whether or not he is an authorized Erudite.

Solving the challenges requires breaking its cryptographic codes and demonstrating knowledge of the Erudite campus. Four desperately needs your help to do both. Time is of the essence. We need to break into the lab to stop the attack before it is launched at 1pm today.

Four sent me the challenges the access system just gave him. I've printed them out for you to work on. Four's Twitter handle is @CDFour. You can communicate with him using Twitter Direct Messages. To make sure he knows I sent you, send him the direct message "I Am Divergent" and he will tell you what he needs from you.

Tris
